Application for a Canada Pension Plan Retirement Pension

What is the Canada Pension Plan (CPP) retirement pension?

The CPP retirement pension is a monthly, taxable benefit that replaces part of your income when you retire. If you qualify, you will receive the CPP retirement pension for the rest of your life.

How do I qualify for CPP retirement pension?

To qualify for the CPP retirement pension, 2 conditions must be met:

1. You must be at least 60 years old.
2. You must have made at least one valid contribution to the CPP.

Valid contributions can be either from work you did in Canada, or as the result of receiving credits from a former spouse or former common-law partner at the end of the relationship.

Service Canada will review the information on your account and from sections A and B of this application to determine if you meet the criteria.

An individual who is approved for a credit split with their separated legal spouse on January 1, 2025 or later is not eligible for a Canada Pension Plan Survivor's pension due to the death of the same separated legal spouse.

(B4) If you worked less to care for young children - Child rearing provision (CRP)

If you worked less or stopped working because you were the primary caregiver for one or more children under the age of 7, you may have contributed little or nothing to the CPP. For this reason, we may be able to apply the child rearing provision. This could increase the benefit amount you receive.

For the CPP, the primary caregiver is the person most responsible for the daily needs of the child(ren) until the age of 7. Some things a primary caregiver does are: watch over the child(ren), prepare meals, go to school meetings and events, or take the child(ren) to medical appointments.

To qualify for the Child Rearing Provision, you must have been the primary caregiver and:

1. received the Family Allowance (available before 1993); and/or
2. been eligible for the Canada Child Benefit, even if you did not receive it (available since 1993).

Note: Only one person can be the primary caregiver at any time. Therefore, this provision can only be applied to one account for the same time period and child(ren) you list in section A).

To help you determine how to complete the following questions, please see Annex A at the end of the form.

A) Please provide your child(ren)'s information below, regardless of their current age or if they are deceased.

Child's full name	Child's Social Insurance Number	Child's date of birth (YYYY-MM-DD)	If the child was born outside Canada, tell us the date the child entered Canada (YYYY-MM-DD)
2.
3.

For additional children, please attach an extra sheet.

Note: If you cannot provide a Social Insurance Number for a child, you must submit proof of birth for that child.

If a child was born outside of Canada, please provide documentation showing the child's date of entry into Canada. This can be one of the following:

- Canadian immigration records (IMM 1000);
- complete passport;
- customs declaration;
- airline ticket;
- bus ticket; or
- ship ticket.

Please send photocopies rather than original documents whenever submitting documents to Service Canada. For more information about photocopies of original documents, please see Annex B at the end of the form.

B) Did you or your current/former spouse or common-law partner receive the Family Allowance?  Yes  No

If Yes, please indicate who received the benefit:

- You
 Your current/former spouse or common-law partner

Did you or your current/former spouse or common-law partner receive, or were either of you eligible for the Canada Child Benefit?

Yes  No

If Yes, please indicate who received or was eligible for the benefit:

- You
 Your current/former spouse or common-law partner

Social Insurance Number:

PROTECTED B (when completed)

C) If there were periods when you did not receive the Family Allowance or were not eligible for the Canada Child Benefit for the child(ren) you listed in section A), please provide the dates and reasons:

From (YYYY-MM)	To (YYYY-MM)	From (YYYY-MM)	To (YYYY-MM)
Reason:		Reason:

 If you need to add additional information, please attach an extra sheet.

D) Were you the primary caregiver for the child(ren) when they were under the age of 7?  Yes  No

E) If there were periods of time when you were not the primary caregiver for the child(ren) you listed in section A), please provide the dates and reasons:

From (YYYY-MM)	To (YYYY-MM)	From (YYYY-MM)	To (YYYY-MM)
Reason:		Reason:

 If you need to add additional information, please attach an extra sheet.

 Please read this section only if you were the primary caregiver, but did not receive the Family Allowance (available before 1993).

If you did not receive the Family Allowance, but you were the primary caregiver, we would not be able to apply this provision to your CPP benefit(s). However, if you remained at home to care for a child under age 7 but your current/former spouse or common-law partner received Family Allowances, they can waive their rights. This means your current/former spouse or common-law partner forgoes their rights to the Child Rearing Provision as it cannot be used for both you and your current/former spouse or common-law partner's CPP benefit(s) for the same child and for the same time period.

If you are requesting the CRP for yourself or on behalf of the deceased person, do not sign section F).

To waive their rights, your current/former spouse or common-law partner has to complete and sign section F).

 Note: Your current/former spouse or common-law partner can only waive their rights to a primary caregiver.

F) Waiver of rights to the Child Rearing Provision

I declare that, for the child(ren) listed for this section and on any additional sheets, I have not and will not make any claims for the Child Rearing Provision for the period(s) accredited to my current/former spouse or common-law partner. Once I give up my rights to the Child Rearing Provision, the action cannot be reversed.

Name	Social Insurance Number	Telephone number during the day
Signature		Date (YYYY-MM-DD)

 Please read this section only if you were the primary caregiver, but were not eligible to receive Canada Child Benefits (available after 1993).

If your current/former spouse or common-law partner received Canada Child Benefits but you were actually the primary caregiver of the child, you may be eligible for the Child Rearing Provision. To be considered, you will need to provide a letter from the Canada Revenue Agency (CRA) indicating you would have been eligible for the Canada Child Benefits had you applied when you were the primary caregiver. If this situation applies, we will contact you.

Section C – Your Canada Pension Plan retirement pension*When is the best time to start receiving your CPP retirement pension?

It is your choice! The longer you wait, the more money you will get each month. You can start any time after you turn 60. There is no financial advantage to waiting past the age of 70.

The best age for you to start your pension depends on your own situation. Your health, finances, and retirement plans all play a part. It is your decision.

The CPP retirement pension is meant to cover part of your retirement income needs, along with the Old Age Security pension and your personal savings.

How much could you receive?

The amount you could get depends on:

- How long you paid into the CPP;
- How much you paid into the plan;
- The age you choose to start your CPP retirement pension.

This chart shows your monthly pension as a percentage. You can see that the amount will be smaller if you start receiving it before age 65. It shows that the longer you wait, the more the pension will be. The amount at age 70 is the most you can get.

- If your pension starts before age 65, it will be reduced by 0.6% for each month (or 7.2% per year) before your 65th birthday. The maximum reduction is 36% if you start your pension at age 60. This reduction is permanent.
- If your pension starts after age 65, it will increase by 0.7% for each month (or 8.4% per year) after your 65th birthday. The maximum increase is 42% if you start your pension at age 70. The increase is permanent, and there are no more increases after age 70.

Note: The rates in the chart above are reflective of the age plus one month, but you can choose your retirement pension to start in any month. However, the earliest your pension can start is the month after your 60th birthday.

Retroactive payments: If you are applying after your 65th birthday, you can choose to receive retroactive pension payments, but they cannot begin earlier than the month after your 65th birthday. In general, we can make retroactive payments of CPP benefits for up to 12 months (11 months plus the month you apply).

? We encourage you to visit the Canadian Retirement Income Calculator (CRIC) as part of your retirement planning. This tool will allow you to estimate your retirement pension at different ages and see how it can fit into your retirement income. To get a personalized estimate of your retirement income from a range of sources including CPP, visit www.canada.ca/retirement-income-calculator.

Annex A - Child rearing provision guide

For the Canada Pension Plan (CPP), the primary caregiver is the person most responsible for the daily needs of the child(ren) until the age of 7. Some things a primary caregiver does are: watch over the child(ren), prepare meals, go to school meetings and events, or take the child(ren) to medical appointments.

Family Allowance (FA) - available before 1993

The FA program (once known as the baby bonus) sent monthly payments to parents or guardians of dependent children under the age of 18. For most families, payments were issued to the mother. The Canada Child Benefit replaced the FA program in 1993.

Canada Child Benefit (CCB) - available since 1993. Previously known as Child Tax Benefit and Canada Child Tax Benefit

The CCB is a monthly benefit administered by the Canada Revenue Agency. The amount of the CCB is based on your net family income level, the number of children you have, and the ages of your children. In most families, payments are/were issued to the mother. You might have been considered eligible to the CCB even if you did not receive it. If you were the primary caregiver of one or more children and did not receive the CCB only because your family income was too high, you are considered to have been eligible for the CCB.

Other Useful Information

Post-retirement benefit

You may be eligible for a Post-Retirement Benefit if you are 60 to 70 years of age and you are working or return to work in Canada (outside Quebec) while receiving a retirement pension from the Canada Pension Plan or Quebec Pension Plan. The Post-Retirement Benefit will allow us to increase your retirement income even if you are already receiving the maximum Canada Pension Plan pension amount. It is a secure monthly benefit that will rise with increases in the cost of living and be payable for the rest of your life. You do not need to apply for the Post-Retirement Benefit. If you are eligible, it will be paid to you automatically. For more information, visit www.canada.ca/cpp-post-retirement.

Canada Pension Plan Disability benefits

You may be eligible to receive CPP disability benefits if you are under the age of 65, you have earned a specific minimum amount and contributed to the CPP while working for a minimum number of years, and you are deemed disabled, as defined by the Canada Pension Plan legislation. If this applies to you, please contact us as soon as possible for more information or visit www.canada.ca/disability. If you meet the above criteria and are granted disability benefits, any retirement pension payments you have already received will be deducted from your disability benefits.

Old Age Security pension

The Old Age Security (OAS) pension is a monthly payment you can get if you are 65 or older and meet the legal status and residence requirements. Service Canada may be able to enroll you automatically for this benefit. For more information, visit www.canada.ca/oas.
